GREAT TURNOUT AT MAVENS' HAVEN

Twenty members convened at MAVENS' Haven the weekend of September 10/11 to carry out chores at this beautiful retreat on the Salmon River at Lucile.

A PLACE CALLED LUCILE

*There was a lot of talk on the court for the word had got around our leader was in a pickle
'cause winter was a comin' and there was much to do
- at a place called Lucile*

*To the north we headed buckets in hand, spades & diggers all sorts of tools & other jiggers at a retreat on the Salmon we did convene
- at a place called Lucile*

*'Twas there in the morning that we all got to work weeding & whacking, sanding & painting splitting & stacking cobwebs brushed, windows washed and outhouses cleaned plus many more chores unrelated
- at this place called Lucile*

*The work list was long it seemed not to end for the weeds were high and the orchard a mess the woodpile was unending but with spirits undaunted onwards we toiled for other chores awaited
- at this place called Lucile*

*Our leader attended supervising and critiquing for fear that we could not accomplish what was needed
'cause winter was a-comin'
and time was runnin' short
- at this place called Lucile*

*As time goes on we will all recall the day we toiled from morn until dusk with backs a-breakin', and knees a-creakin' but all agreed we were indeed happy to help a friend in a pickle
- at this place called Lucile (anon.)*
